RELATIONSHIPS AND POSITIVE BEHAVIOUR POLICY

Agreed	Summer 2023
Review	Summer 2024
Statutory	Yes
Annual	Yes

Our Christian ethos is central to who we are, how we think and how we act towards each other.

- We love one another just as God loves us, even though none of us are perfect;
- We care for and support one another, even when this is in light of challenging behaviour;
- We promote and celebrate the power of forgiveness when things go wrong, when we are wronged, when relationships need restoring, and in helping us to move on;
- We have hope that all children can make progress in their attitudes and the choices they make, just as God has hope in us and never gives up on us.

As well as being secure in God's love, we believe that our pupils need to understand and experience that our staff, will keep them safe, care for them and will positively interact with them to help them flourish.

“Love one another. As I have loved you, so you must love one another.” John 13:34

DFE 2021

Everyone stands to benefit from good behaviour in schools. Effective behaviour management means that low-level disruption is not tolerated and pupils' behaviour does not disrupt lessons or the day-to-day life of the school. Pupils can learn; teachers can teach; staff can do their job; and parents have confidence that their child is safe and supported to do the best that they can.

If we do not get managing behaviour right, we will not be able to provide children with the quality of education they deserve. It should therefore surprise no one that we are concerned with ensuring that we know and inspect behaviour well. This is why we now have a separate 'behaviour and attitudes' judgement in the new education inspection framework (EIF), but also why we are running a programme of research to study how schools are managing challenging behaviour. In this commentary, we report on the first phase of this programme.

Research

This policy is based on the EEF research for promoting good behaviour 5 strategies. Particularly being consistent, proactive, knowing one size never fits all and establishing good relationships to promote and develop mental health.

EEF Behaviour Improving summary

Also the EEF study on the importance of breakfast clubs and morning time, to promote good behaviour and academic performance by 2 months. Recognising the strong link to health with a relaxed healthy breakfast, a sociable time to meet and greet and play.

A whole-school behaviour approach is much more than a set of policies or documents. It is about what everyone in the school does, how they behave, and what expectations are set and taught. It is also about the values and ethos of the school. Strong values underpin good behaviour.

At The Walsh schools we believe that relationships are key to developing trust and respect and allow all people to flourish. Relationships are everyone's responsibility. We are committed to creating an environment where exemplary behaviour is at the heart of productive learning. Everyone is expected to maintain the highest standards of personal conduct, to accept the responsibility for their behaviour and encourage others to do the same. Our policy emphasises our core values and rules which can be applied to a variety of situations and are taught and modelled explicitly by all staff.

School Golden Promises

Our schools have 3 simple Golden promises and 5 rules that everyone will follow. (see Appendix 1 for a list of expected behaviours for each rule).

Be Ready	Be Safe	Be Kind/Respectful
<ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>- I will stay in the classroom to learn</li><li>- I will listen and follow teacher direction</li><li>- I will keep my hands feet and remarks to myself</li><li>- I will be polite and kind and use good manners</li><li>- I will try hard to do my work and not disturb others</li></ul>

All children and adults are expected to follow the Behaviour Policy.

The aim of the policy

This policy provides a framework around how adults and pupils should work together to create a nurturing and positive environment where pupils feel loved, safe and interact well. In turn, this helps them to be model citizens in our world in order to make a positive impact on society.

- To create a culture of exceptionally good behaviour; for learning, for community, for life.
- To respect and care for all members of the school community, adults and children as reflected in our Christian ethos.
- To help learners take control over their behaviour and be responsible for the consequences of it.

- To build a community which values kindness, care, cooperation and empathy for others.
- To develop courage and resilience in overcoming difficult situations, being able to move on from them positively.
- To encourage pupils to make 'good choices'
- To promote community cohesion through improved relationships.

The role of all adults within school :

All adults will ensure that all learners are treated fairly and shown respect to promote positive relationships.

We expect all adults to:

Adults should be given regular opportunities to reflect on behaviours, empathising from the child's perspective, and different approaches that could be used.

Adults should aim to provide 2 minutes a day to talk to a child about their interests beyond the classroom to establish relationships. They should consider children who are known. Are there children who find it difficult to make connections with adults? Are there children who you haven't spoken to today? Are there children you know better than others?

Adults should use the 5:1 strategy - 5 positives to 1 negative. Shower children with praise when it is hard.

- Ensure a consistent and calm, whole school approach to, and use of language for promoting positive behaviour
- Deliver the Schools Golden Promises and sanctions consistently and fairly
- Create a positive and purposeful learning environment that promotes and supports positive behaviour
- Talk to the children in a friendly and respectful manner
- Adopt a firm but kind manner when we need to support a child with their behaviour
- Model positive behaviours and build relationships
- Explain, in child-friendly language, the consequences of their actions
- Ensure our children are polite, happy and considerate of others' feelings
- Meet and greet at the door
- Plan lessons that engage, challenge and meet the needs of all learners
- Use a visible recognition mechanism throughout every lesson (e.g., Recognition boards)
- Be calm and give 'take up time' when going through the steps
- Try to pre-empt and prevent behaviours
- Never ignore or walk past learners who are behaving badly.

Under the DFE guidance of Behaviour and discipline in schools 2016. All Staff have statutory authority to discipline pupils whose behaviour is unacceptable, who break the school rules or who fail to follow a reasonable instruction (Section 90 and 91 of the Education and Inspections Act 2006). Staff are allowed to

- Search pupils for prohibited items including those listed in the Behaviour and discipline in schools advice 2016 and confiscate pupils' property
- To use reasonable force or other physical contact
- To discipline beyond the school gate
- To work with other local agencies to assess the needs of pupils who display disruptive behavior

All members of staff are responsible for promoting high standards of behaviour at all times. The Head Teacher, or in their absence the Deputy Head Teacher, has the responsibility for giving fixed-term suspensions to individual children for serious acts of mis behaviour. The Head Teacher may permanently exclude a child for repeated, or very serious, acts of anti-social behaviour. This action is only taken after the school governors have been notified.

Induction for all staff includes discussions linked to the Safeguarding and Child Protection Policy, Staff Behaviour Code of Conduct and the Anti-Bullying Policy. All staff receive regular training on behaviour.

We expect children to:

All children at The Walsh Schools are expected to keep all the Schools Golden Promises.

- I will stay in the classroom to learn
- I will listen and follow teacher direction
- I will keep my hands feet and remarks to myself
I will be polite and kind and use good manners
- I will try hard to do my work and not disturb others

We expect parents to:

- Support their child's learning, and to support staff to implement this behaviour policy.
- Model positive behaviours and build relationships.
- Promote positive behaviour at home in order to have continuity between home/school.
- Speak to the class teacher if they feel their child's emotional wellbeing in or out of school is impacting on the child's behaviour.
- Ensure regular and punctual attendance at school.
- Actively to encourage their child to be a positive member of the school.

The role of governors:

The governing body supports the Head Teacher in all attempts to support positive behaviour and to eliminate bullying from our establishment. The governing body monitors the incidents of bullying that occur.

Monitor behaviour data (recorded on behaviour tracking or CPOMS) to target and assess school wide behaviour policy and practice.

We expect governors to:

- Support the school in the implementation of the policy.
- Follow the advice in any related policies, including the Complaints Policy.
- Review the effectiveness of the policy

Rewards

Rewards have a motivational role, helping children see that good behaviour is valued and celebrated. These include positive messages home for behaviour that is 'over and above'.

- Golden Time is given for good behaviour and quality time with class teaching staff– classes earn up to 30 minutes every week
- Extra Golden time for keeping values and golden promises (i.e. if lining up well, an extra minute rewarded)
- Verbal and written praise both informal and formal.

- Sharing good work in Celebration Assemblies – 2 children from each class are chosen based on Values and Rules and they receive a certificate, names in the newsletter and photo in the hall.
- A positive note home
- A phone call or email or a face to face chat to share positive news
- Whole class rewards i.e. marble in a jar (trim trail, parachute etc.)
- House points/ group rewards
- Stickers for keeping Values and Golden Promises
- Receiving star class of the week
- Gold Award
- Head teacher Awards
- Earning extra privileges – register, books etc.

Celebration Assembly (Star of the Week)

Our celebration assembly is once a week where two children from each class will be chosen for demonstrating the golden promises and school values. The children are selected at the beginning of the assembly and receive a certificate from the Head. They then take their seat pride of place on “the best seats in the house” for the duration of the assembly. The Gold awards are always, consistently demonstrating the golden promises and values, the teachers give six names (or more) to be added to the Golden Pot and six names pulled out who will then attend ‘Gold Award time’ which is sharing a drink, snack and a chat with SLT.

Lunchtime rewards

Children will receive a lunchtime certificate for keeping and demonstrating the Golden promises.

Playtime certificate – children can earn a ‘green slip’ and after receiving 10 green slips they earn a treat from SLT and a playground superstar certificate.

Class Time outs

Teachers have the authority to use the time out facility for a whole class, to support school systems, e.g. lining up, walking around school, changing over lessons etc. This would be a time to explain or practise whole school expectations. This would generally be used when there are more than a few children or to reinforce a safety rule e.g. walking around school which extends to trips etc. This is also to bring the class or school together to understand a sense of community and it is our responsibility to work together. The class teacher also has the authority that should she/he consider that the behaviour of a minority may affect the safety of the class the lesson may be postponed. E.g. PE using apparatus. This would be explained to the class. Teachers will consider if they have a teaching assistant and if it is a minority of children whether these alone can have time out. Any whole class time outs would be explained that it is not everyone. Whole class detentions are not to be used.

Sanctions

Sanctions are needed to register the disapproval of unacceptable behaviour and to protect the security and stability of the school community. Staff members can impose a sanction.

- It should be clear to the child why the sanction is being applied.
- It should be clear what changes in behaviour are required to avoid future sanctions.
- There should be a clear distinction between minor and major offences (see Green form for level 1,2 or 3 behaviours).

It is important to note that the golden promises (rules) do not change but the level of support pupils need to achieve these may differ. All children will be supported to understand all actions have consequences. Being ‘fair’ is not about everyone getting the same (equality) but about everyone getting what they need

(equity). Thinking of a child with a negative disposes you to think of a consequence. Thinking about a child struggling to handle something difficult encourages you to help them through their distress.

There is a statutory authority to discipline pupils whose behaviour is unacceptable (Education and Inspections Act 2006 with updates in the 2011 Act; mainly regarding searching and powers of exclusion). If a pupil misbehaves, breaks a school rule or fails to follow a reasonable instruction the staff member can impose a punishment on that pupil. The decision to make the punishment must be made on the school premises or whilst the pupil is under the charge of the member of staff. It must be reasonable (account must be taken of age, any SEN or disability or any religious requirements affecting them) in all circumstances and equal opportunities must be considered. Also a consideration should be made if the child is suffering harm or the result of unmet needs. If this is suspected then the Safeguarding policy or SEN policy would also be followed. Non-criminal bad behaviour and bullying which is witnessed by a staff member or reported to the school will be dealt with the same sanctions as if it occurred in school. Any staff member can impose a sanction except for exclusion which would be imposed by a Senior Leader and formal exclusion; agreed by the Head Teacher.

Steps taken if behaviour does not meet the high standards required:

- Time out with a sand timer/ timer
- Children will complete work at playtime or lunchtime
- During playtime or lunchtime children will receive time out in the playground and class teacher will be informed
- Missed work to be completed at break times
- If behaviour continues to be a cause for concern, their class teacher will speak to the parents either at the end of the day or a phone call home
- Suspension - internal/external
- Exclusion
- See Green form for a break down of Level 1, 2 and 3 behaviours and logical consequences and flow chart.

Practical steps in managing and modifying poor behaviour

Learners are held responsible for their behaviour. Staff will deal with behaviour consistently.

Clear boundaries and expectations are necessary for children to know what acceptable and unacceptable behaviour is. We use a range of strategies to help children understand that there are logical consequences to actions both positive and negative. It is also imperative that staff reflect on how the provision may need to change in light of poor choices being made by children. We recognise that in some instances, solutions need to be found to any environmental factors which contributed towards poor choices. Therefore, after the sanction is applied, we must ask the question 'What triggered the behaviour?', and take action to prevent this from happening in the future.

Steps to modify

Steps	Actions
1. Redirection	First attention to best conduct – praise those doing well. Gentle encouragement, a 'nudge' in the right direction - use golden promise terminology Use positive short sentences - you need to... follow the teacher direction Non-verbal cues, acknowledgement Positive praise ' I like how you're about to .... Thank you for ...' Redirect (i.e. hand out books, take a note) Pause / silence
2. Reminder	A reminder of the appropriate golden promise. The adult makes the child aware of their behaviour and the learner has a choice to do the right thing. (sometimes a choice of two (what the teacher wants) is helpful. Visual reminders <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>- Refer to posters of golden promises</li> </ul> Reminders of promises and expectations (in class) Praise will be given if the learner is able to model good behaviour as a result of the reminder.
3. Caution	A clear verbal warning delivered privately wherever possible, making the learner aware of their behaviour and clearly outlining the consequences if they continue. Speaking assertively but not aggressively.
4. Sanction	See Green form for sanctions and strategies to support.

This is just a guide and not an exhaustive list. The incident should be fully investigated and a consideration of all factors will determine the relative and appropriate commensurate sanction applied. Repeated behaviours would usually move into the next level.

Behaviour Flow Chart – following the Green Form

Serious Incidents

Depending on the age and needs of the children, these incidents will be dealt with at the discretion of the school staff. All serious behaviour matters must be referred immediately to the Headteacher or SLT. Such incidents could include:

- All forms of bullying
- Racist, sexist or homophobic comments
- Physically striking adults or children

Parents will also be informed of serious incidents, a phone call by SLT, ideally before the end of the day and consequences will be discussed.

Sexual harassment

Allegations and issues around sexual harassment and/or sexual violence are taken very seriously at The Walsh schools. Our DSLs and staff are trained to support victims carefully and sensitively; we recognise that the perpetrators may need support, too.

We have a zero tolerance approach to Sexual Violence or Sexual Harassment. We are clear that sexual violence and sexual harassment is not acceptable, will never be tolerated and is not an inevitable part of growing up. It cannot be described as 'banter', 'having a laugh' or 'boys being boys'. We will also take seriously any sharing of sexual images (photos, pictures or drawings) and videos; sexual jokes, comments or taunting either in person or on social media; or on-line sexual harassment. (Taken from our Safeguarding and Child protection policy)

Whilst there will be a context to any reported incident, we will always:

- Place the feelings and wishes of the victim at the centre of any actions.
- Act quickly and sensitively, seeking advice where appropriate and referring to other policies including KCSIE and our own safeguarding and child protection policies.
- Treat victims and perpetrators with respect, recognising they will both be in need.
- Involve other agencies as required, including Children's Services and the police.
- Put in place additional support, such as pastoral time or counselling from professional agencies.
- Involve the children and parents or carers in decisions made.
- Consider classroom placements and seating arrangements of the children involved.
- Put in place sexualised risk assessments as appropriate.
- Reflect on our practice, updating staff training, curriculum practice and guidance as appropriate

Further actions and details around responding to sexual harassment and sexual violence are detailed in our Safeguarding and Child Protection policy.

Bullying

At The Walsh schools, we educate our pupils to understand that we celebrate an individual's identity, differences, and similarities. Differences are to be celebrated. Bullying is a serious issue and we have a separate anti-bullying policy which should be followed if bullying is reported or suspected. Any incident or behaviour suspected of bullying is reported to a DSL or any senior member of staff who will support the appropriate person, usually the class teacher, investigate fully and discuss the incident with all parties involved to:

- Interview the victim and bully separately
- Reassure the child that they have done the right thing by reporting the situation. Victims of bullying often feel powerless and vulnerable and may believe that they deserve to be bullied. Everything will be done to re-establish the victim's self-esteem and self-confidence. The victim will also be given support to become more assertive and thereby less vulnerable to bullying.
- Speak to the bully and identify the reasons why they have acted in the way they have and explaining why bullying is unacceptable
- The bully will be helped to recognise their unsociable behaviour and given support to modify that behaviour
- Help and support the child/children to understand the need to be kind and caring to each other

The teacher or other staff member informs the parents of the pupils concerned about the incident and any action taken about their child. We aim to ensure that a positive home-school partnership in these matters is developed and maintained, working together to help children to improve their behaviour.

Details of the incident and action taken are recorded on CPOMS.

Any incident involving prejudice related incidents is reported via CPOMS and this records details of the incident, the people involved and any actions taken and reported to Surrey County Council annually.

Child-on-child abuse

Following any report of child-on-child sexual violence or sexual harassment offline or online, we follow the general safeguarding principles set out in Keeping children safe in education (KCSIE) - especially Part 5. Each incident will be considered on a case-by-case basis.

Any incident involving harm to another pupil or causing serious concern is reported to the Head Teacher immediately – this is recorded appropriately on CPOMS. The report must give details of the incident, the children involved and the actions taken following the incident. The parents are informed by the Head Teacher or senior member of staff.

Behaviour incidents online

Inappropriate online behaviour including bullying, the use of inappropriate language, the soliciting and sharing of nude or semi-nude images and videos and sexual harassment will be addressed in accordance with the same principles as offline behaviour, including following the child protection policy and speaking to the designated safeguarding lead (or deputy) when an incident raises a safeguarding concern.

Searching and confiscating

Head Teachers and staff they authorise have a statutory power to search a pupil or their possessions where they have reasonable grounds to suspect that the pupil may have a prohibited item. The list of prohibited items is:

- knives and weapons
- alcohol
- illegal drugs
- stolen items

- any article that the member of staff reasonably suspects has been, or is likely to be used:
  - to commit an offence, or
  - to cause personal injury to, or damage to property of; any person (including the pupil)
- an article specified in regulations:
  - tobacco and cigarette papers
  - fireworks; and
  - pornographic images.

Only the head teacher, or a member of staff authorised by the head teacher, can carry out a search. The head teacher can authorise individual members of staff to search for specific items. School staff will follow the DfE guidance on searching, screening and confiscation in all cases.

In addition to the list of prohibited items above, pupils are not allowed to bring mobile phones to school, unless they are in year 6, have parental permission to walk home alone and parents have signed the mobile phone agreement. All mobile phones must be handed in to the class teacher on arrival, and are then stored in the school office until the end of the day when they are given out by the class teacher. Children are not permitted to have any phones or devices on their person at any time or for any reason in school, during the school day.

Smart watches and personal I-pads or any other devices are not permitted in school. Vapes are not permitted.

For major offences or continual unacceptable behaviour (Level 3 behaviours), the following procedure may occur:

- Referral to the Senior leader for behaviour such as; disrespect and answering staff back, refusal to do as a member of staff asks, direct swearing, throwing , hitting, kicking, any form of bullying or racism (this is not an exhaustive list). (Please also see Anti-bullying policy)
- If appropriate, usually a behaviour plan may be put in place and reviewed.
- Head teacher or Deputy will usually have a discussion or send letters to parent/carers
- Additional specialist help and advice from the SEN Coordinator, Educational Psychologist.
- Ultimately and in the last resort exclusion (following LEA guidelines)-where appropriate a Pastoral Support Plan(PSP) then needs to be put in place with HT/Deputy ,CT, Parent and child
- For a more serious incident where physical restraint is required, please see physical restraint policy.
- Where the behaviour of a child is giving cause for concern it is important that all those working with the child in school and at home, are aware of those concerns and of the steps which are taking place. The school will communicate policy and expectations to parents/carers. Parents/carers will be informed at an early stage, and given an opportunity to discuss the situation. Parental/Carer and borough support will be sought in devising a plan of action within this policy, and further disciplinary action will be discussed with the Parents/carers. Records need to be kept by the Deputy/HT of incidents/sanctions and accounts sought from staff and children. Also investigating events prior to the incident.

- Internal exclusions may be given for more serious behaviour, usually for a first time offence. Examples such as: such malicious allegations against staff, direct swearing or a fight. (This is not an exhaustive list).
- Pupils may be placed in an area or room away from other pupils; a staff member would always be monitoring this
- A second offence is usually a formal suspension, which may be permanent exclusion.

Exclusion and suspension

Fixed term suspensions and possibly permanent exclusion may occur when a child exhibits dangerous behaviours and/or behaviour that presents a risk to themselves or others. A decision to exclude a pupil for a fixed time or permanently will be taken by the headteacher (or acting in absence of) only in response to serious breaches or persistent breaches of the school's behaviour policy and if allowing the pupil to remain in school would seriously harm the education or welfare of the pupil or others in the school. The Headteacher will make this decision in line with this policy and taking into account all the circumstances, the evidence available and the need to balance the interests of the pupil against those of the school. The Headteacher will apply the civil standard of proof; i.e. 'on the balance of probabilities' it is more likely than not that a fact is true, rather than the criminal standard of 'beyond reasonable doubt.' The Headteacher will have regard to the latest statutory guidance for exclusion issued by the Department for Education. The school will have due regard to the Equality Act. This includes provisions to allow schools to take positive action to deal with particular disadvantages, needs, or low participation affecting one group, where this can be shown to be a proportionate way of dealing with such issues.

There will, however, be exceptional circumstances where, in the head teacher's/teacher in charge's judgment, it is appropriate to permanently exclude a child for a first or 'one off' offence. These might include:

These categories are:

- Physical assault against a pupil
- Physical assault against an adult
- Verbal abuse or threatening behaviour against a pupil
- Verbal abuse or threatening behaviour against an adult
- Persistent disruptive behaviour
- Serious actual or threatened violence against another pupil or a member of staff
- Sexual abuse or assault
- Supplying an illegal drug or repeated possession and/or use of an illegal drug on school premises
- *Persistent and defiant misbehaviour including bullying
- Carrying an offensive weapon
- A serious malicious allegation against a staff member
- Breaches of school uniform rules or rules on appearance (for example, relating to jewellery, body-piercing, hairstyles, etc.) Where these are persistent and in open defiance of such rules. Pupils may be sent home, their parents first having been contacted on recorded authorised absence to change clothes without being excluded in the first instance (this should be documented). This should be for no longer than is necessary, otherwise it may amount to an unofficial exclusion

This is not an exhaustive list

The school may have a duty to inform the police where a criminal offence may have taken place. They should also consider whether or not to inform other agencies such as Youth Offending Teams or social workers.

Fixed term Suspensions

At Walsh we believe that, in general, suspensions are not an effective means of moving behaviour forward. However, in order for children to achieve their maximum academic potential in the schools, they must feel safe from physical and verbal aggression and disruption. If a child seriously breaches the school's behaviour policy and if the pupil remaining in school would seriously harm the education or welfare of the pupil or others in the school the Head of School may take the decision to suspend for a fixed period. If this decision is taken, work will be set for the pupils to complete at home. Following a fixed term suspension, the pupil and parents meet the Head teacher and class teacher to discuss the pupil's reintegration to school and the best way forward to support the child.

At Walsh Schools, each day is a new day. Where a child has had to be suspended, it is expected that they will be welcomed back and treated without any resentment and given every opportunity to have a fresh start.

Permanent Exclusion

The Secretary of State for Education feels that permanent exclusion should be seen as a last resort and that a school should be able to show that it has taken all reasonable steps to avoid exclusion.

Permanent exclusion should only occur when risk assessment indicates that to allow the child to remain in school on an ongoing basis would be seriously detrimental to the education or welfare of the pupil concerned or to other pupils at the school.

Where fixed term suspension or permanent exclusion is used the school conforms to the Surrey's Exclusion Guidelines and DfE Guidance.

Understanding behaviours

After a sanction has been applied. Whoever dealt with the sanction needs to consider the behaviour and understand why it may have happened and if any further action/support is needed and action this.

This may take the form of;

- Restorative practice

At the Walsh schools we use restorative practice to promote good behaviour and resolve unacceptable behaviour in a fair and consistent way. The restorative questions are displayed in every classroom and on staff lanyards. Any form of humiliation or sarcasm are not acceptable. Every effort will be made to maintain safety and retain all children's access to learning. Decisions regarding logical consequences must be considered, reasonable and not made on impulse.

- If unacceptable behaviours persist, Class teacher and SENCO to meet and discuss next steps to modify unacceptable behaviour; (the SENCO will provide appropriate paperwork and monitor progress).
- If the behaviour continues to cause concern then a meeting with parents, class teacher and child will be arranged and an action plan will be discussed and put in place.
- A daily log will be kept and this information used to identify possible triggers and patterns.
- Behaviour systems for individual pupils are put in place following consultation with SENCO/parent/pupil and teacher from the class. An Individual Behaviour Programme and information from the One Page Profile may be set to modify the behaviour in consultation with all parties concerned
- Sessions of support (could be ELSA) are carefully planned for children who have Social, Mental and Emotional needs.
- A pupil may be referred for emotional support (either in school through a nurture programme such as ELSA or via outside agencies where needs are more significant)
- Where necessary, consultations with external agencies are made by the SENCO
- Any pupil with an Education Health and Care Plan for emotional difficulties will be supported as recommended using outside agencies advice and consideration of an early annual review if needed
- Sudden, unexplained changes in behaviour will be reported to the DSL via CPOMS*

Within classrooms or with individual children we use;

The Zones of Regulation

At The Walsh schools, we believe in children understanding their own emotions, in order to help them manage them. The Zones of Regulation are embedded within our environment and ethos, and we believe are essential to helping improve and understand behaviour.

At The Walsh Schools, we believe in children understanding their own emotions, in order to help them manage them. The Zones of Regulation are embedded within our environment and ethos, and we believe are essential to helping improve and understand behaviour. Classes explore the meaning of our Golden Promises and School Rules as outlined above as well as having other class promises/rules generated with the children.

Pupils with Special Education Needs and Disabilities

Those pupils with Special Education Needs and disabilities (SEND) as well as those with additional challenges that some pupils may face will be taken into consideration when administering sanctions and rewards. The school acknowledges that learners with more challenging behaviour may need specific support and an individualised approach. These pupils will be brought to the attention of the school's SENCO and will have an In class strategy plan or playground plan in place. Other agencies may become involved to assess the needs of the pupil. The school recognises that where individual pupils are engaging in continuing disruptive behaviour this could be as a result of unmet needs. If such needs are identified the school aims to ensure the pupil receives appropriate support. Further information can be found in the SEND policy.

We use preventative measures and anticipate likely triggers of misbehaviour, taking into account the specific requirements of pupils with SEND. Examples may include:

- short, planned movement breaks for a pupil whose SEND means that they find it difficult to sit still for long
- adjusting seating plans to allow a pupil with visual or hearing impairment to sit in sight of the teacher
- adjusting uniform requirements for a pupil with sensory issues or who has severe eczema
- training for staff in understanding conditions such as autism

Physical Intervention Statement

Use of reasonable force in schools

Following Government and LA guidance, Education and Inspections Act 2006, school discipline and behaviour policies. Staff must make every effort to summon help in a situation where they suspect physical intervention may be required. When restraint is used, assistance must be summoned immediately and all incidents recorded fully and honestly as soon as possible after the incident. This must be added to CPOMS. This information must be shared with the child's parent/carer. Staff will execute emergency restraint as a last resort on pupils who are:

- At risk of injuring themselves
- At risk of injuring other pupils or at risk of injuring adults
- At risk of damaging school property
- Disrupting good order and discipline in the classroom

The use of physical intervention should be minimised by adopting strategies that:

- Prevent the occurrence of behaviours which precipitate the use of physical intervention
- De-escalate or defuse the situation.

Physical intervention is the use of physical pressure by an adult to stop a pupil's actions. It is a criminal offence to use, or threaten to use, physical force on a child unless the circumstances give rise to a lawful excuse or justification. Similarly it is an offence to lock a child in a room except in very exceptional and specific circumstances.

Physical intervention is defined by the British Institute of Learning Difficulties as a method of responding to challenging behaviour which involves some degree of direct physical force which limits or restricts the movement or mobility of the person concerned. This would include holding a child who is attacking another pupil or physically restraining a pupil who is behaving in a violent or aggressive way. Restrictive physical interventions which involve the use of force to control a child's behaviour should only be used in exceptional circumstances, such as to maintain the safety of the child or others. No adult working in the school will run after or follow or attempt to prevent an angry child leaving an area, unless they are at harm. Children should be left to calm down unless they are at risk of injuring themselves or others when restraint may be used as a last resort.

Intervention of any sort should be proportionate to the behaviour of the child and the nature of the harm they might cause. It should not cause pain, and be the least possible action resulting in stabilising the situation. It should aim to achieve an outcome that reflects the best interest of the child, with minimum force applied for the shortest period of time to prevent injury.

Staff should normally only use methods of restrictive physical intervention for which they have received training at regular intervals.

Guidelines for good practice in physical contact concerned with control

Staff should only use reasonable force when all other alternatives have failed. De-escalation strategies might include:

- Use the language of the zones of regulation to identify how we are feeling and implement calming strategies to support regulating behaviour
- Structuring the environment – where we speak to the child, whether we sit or stand
- Planned ignoring – not giving attention to minor, harmless attention seeking behaviour, remembering to praise appropriate behaviour
- Prompting – gentle reminders to a child of what they need to stop doing or to prepare for – verbal or sensory input – avoid “nagging”
- Active listening – listen, explore and acknowledge a child's feelings through the use of reflective responses – feeling that someone cares can be enough for a child to stay in control
- Backing away – not backing down: give the child time to calm down before you discuss the situation with them – alternatively, allow the child to back away through offering them a verbal or physical way out
- Humour – can take heat out of a situation, but take care, can be experienced as critical, demeaning and a superficial reaction to real feelings
- Affection – helps head off behaviour motivated by fear, anxiety or uncertainty
- Hurdle help – when a child is stuck then providing assistance can help
- Non-verbal intervention – nods/looks to signal a change of behaviour is needed; proximity of an adult can help; touch control – a gentle touch may be enough to stop action
- Redirecting – try to refocus the child away from what they are doing now.

The last two strategies can be used when none of the above are making a difference and the child is still agitated.

- Directive statement – clear instruction to the child to stop a certain behaviour or start something else
- Time out – requiring a child to move away to another or quieter area to calm down

Whatever strategies you use, take care to remember;

- Talk quietly and in a low key manner, which can reduce the ‘heat’ in a situation
- Consider your body language, avoid threatening body posture and be aware of the non-verbal messages your body is communicating
- Be positive about each child; do not call them names or make derogatory remarks
- Don’t make promises you can’t keep
- Do the things that you have promised
- Consider the level of eye contact you make with the young person. Too much could be threatening, too little could make it appear that you don’t care or you are frightened/uninterested

Behaviour Outside of School - Off-Site Visits

The expectations provided in this Positive Behaviour Policy apply whilst pupils, staff, volunteers and helpers are involved in any off-site school visit.

Pupils conduct outside the school gates

The expectations provided in this Positive Behaviour Policy apply whilst pupils are travelling to and from school. In doing so, their behaviour will maintain the positive reputation of the school.

At The Walsh Schools we support every child as an individual and work together to enable everyone to access their learning in a positive way.

Appendix 1 At our school we are Always, READY, SAFE and RESPECTFUL this is our vision of a high standard of behaviour
